Dear Friends

July 15th is St Swithin's day. According to an old belief, St Swithin's Day, if it does rain, Full forty days, it will remain. St Swithin's Day, if it be fair, For forty days, t'will rain no more.

Met Office records suggest otherwise. Nevertheless, there is a grain of truth. High atmospheric pressure around the Azores generally brings fine weather to our part of Europe. Around mid July, the jet stream - the strong westerly wind high in the atmosphere - sometimes settles into a consistent pattern for a few weeks. This can keep areas of high pressure "stuck" where they are. So the St Swithin story might be rephrased as "if high pressure in the Azores occurs in mid July and the jet stream stabilises, fine weather is likely to persist for a few weeks." Not as snappy as the original, but fully in accordance with our scientific understanding of the weather!

Our capacity to understand some of the workings of the universe sets us apart from the rest of the animal kingdom. Another characteristic is our ability to share our understanding with others. Most of us will recognise the pleasure of sharing even a modest discovery - a colony of an uncommon wild flower, a better way of doing a common task, or how to make an infuriating electronic gadget do what it is meant to do. The pleasure of knowledge is enhanced by successfully explaining it to someone else. Why else do teachers persist in their profession?

I believe that our quest to understand the universe is no less than a reflection of God's wish to share the wonder of his creation with us. It is for this that God said "let us make Man in our own image." By coming to understand - however incompletely - how the universe works, we are giving God the pleasure of sharing part of himself with us. When we marvel at the stupendous variety, complexity and elegance of creation, we are communing with God who "gave us eyes to see them, and lips that we might tell."

Parish Council Update

The parish meeting Open Day on Saturday 16th June was thronged with parishioners eating home-made cake (thank you, Maddie Coxhill and Stella Nandra) and enjoying a mini-exhibition on the history of Dadford and Stowe.

The exhibits were a part of the extensive research carried out over a number of years by local historian Philippa Atkinson. We owe huge thanks to Philippa. She and her husband Cllr Chris Atkinson mounted the exhibition with assistance from Guy Scott and Anthony Hayes. We were also fortunate to have Ruth Hawkins (see page 4 for her report) attend for a large part of the day.

A second cause supported this summer by Stowe Parish has been the Hearing Dogs charity. On Saturday 9th June representatives of the council were honoured to open the Great British Dog Walk Stowe, and then joined several hundred people and dogs to walk the 13 km circuit.

Generous donations were made by our parishioners on the day of the walk as well as during our parish meeting.

Judging for the Best Kept Village competition will be completed by early July. Watch this space!

If you're interested in growing your own food, get in touch with the council and put your name to one of the several vacant allotments.

The Buckingham and Area Rural Transport (BART) community bus now has a project coordinator who is working on a pilot to trial bookings of a large mini bus with access for wheelchairs. Right now he is recruiting volunteer drivers and organising training. If you are interested in booking this bus, get in touch with the parish council.

Silverstone Circuit held its quarterly community liaison group meeting for parish council chairs on 14th June. Included in the agenda were forthcoming events, plans for traffic and noise management, and a rundown of communications strategies. Requests made by our council last year have led to new reminders to circuit visitors that they must drive respectfully through neighbouring villages. These will be included in road signage, in print materials, on the website and by tannov.

As in past years, the F1 Grand Prix one-way traffic option will be deployed only in the event of inclement weather, but the Moto GP one-way traffic plan will go ahead irrespective of weather. Emergency services are stationed at the ready. close by, in the event of any need from Dadford and Stowe. Anyone concerned about traffic during these busy months is urged to look for updates in the residents' pages of the circuit's website, or to contact a member of the parish council. Stuart Pringle, MD of Silverstone Circuit, will be invited to meet parishioners as soon as this can be arranged by the council.

Silverstone Park (MEPC development company) also held its quarterly meeting for parish council chairs recently, on 18 June. Hot topics for our parish are the trafficcalming scheme through Dadford and a cycle route between Silverstone and Buckingham, involving Dadford and Stowe. These are to be funded by what's known as Section 106 agreements, which are the projects offered in mitigation when a development impacts on a local community. Plans for our traffic-calming scheme were drawn up some years ago and require that the works take place no later than three months after Silverstone Park's first tenants take up residence. Currently there is a healthy level of interest by prospective tenants of the various potential units, and the commercial director is hopeful that detailed design plans for the units will be drawn up and submitted in application before much longer. A consultation stage will follow, during which parishioners will be invited to view the detailed plans. Progress is eagerly awaited by our parish as well as by neighbouring parishes who are similarly affected. All plans are made available on the AVDC website.

Broadband has hit the doldrums, with line-of-sight provider Voneus now in renewed negotiations to achieve the last stages of connecting to fibre. Look for updates on their Dadford Voneus facebook page.

Councillors: Chris Atkinson, Jamie Boulet, Sue Boulet (Vice-Chair), Christine Considine (Chair), Ian Watkins, Steve Williamson, John Windley.

MILES 4 MS

/13 MARATHONS /13 HALF MARATHONS

/13 WEEKS

THE CHALLENGE

The challenge is to run
13 marathons and 13 half marathons, or 510.9 miles, all within 13 weeks!
Why? Ultimately the aim is to raise money and awareness for the sufferers and families affected by Multiple Sclerosis.

WHY MS?

In 2009 my brother in-law Philip was diagnosed with MS and from 2013 has been in a wheelchair. His mobility is severely affected and he suffers from extreme fatigue, dizziness and is prone to infections and illnesses. However, Phil is always fighting and has not lost his sense of humour!

Dear All

I'm very glad to report that the challenge is completed and it went very well, all 510+ miles of it! Tough at times but the highs definitely outweighed the lows! I Loved getting the chance to run with some lovely people and I feel incredibly lucky to have had such wonderful support from friends and family. Chris and Hilary (my parents-in-law) made it to a lot of runs to cheer me on, which really helped, especially at the Milton Keynes marathon which was an incredibly hot day.

I am very pleased to say that with everyone's efforts, support and very generous sponsorship we have now raised over £11,000 for Multiple Sclerosis. The money will be spilt between the MS centre in Leicester, which my brother in-law uses, and the society's brilliant work in treatment and research.

I'm so chuffed to have finished with only a few blisters and glad to say that I am still running every few days albeit less miles than a marathon!

Thank you ever so much for the support, it really has helped me persevere with the 510miles4ms challenge.

With best wishes Ruth Hawkins

What's been happening at St. James and St. John Church of England Primary School (Akeley and Chackmore)...

There is so much that happens in school at this time of year! We are so proud of our Year 6 pupils who worked so hard throughout the Key Stage 2 SATs period. They have been enjoying numerous special events to reward all their efforts. Last week a graffiti artist spent two days with the class redesigning the murals on the playground sheds to reflect the school values. The children learnt about the 'Rights and Wrongs' of graffiti which linked to their work in English on presenting a balanced argument.

The Year 6s also enjoyed a visit from the author Griselda Heppel who spoke to the children and read from her novel The Tragickall History of Henry Fowst. This was a fascinating insight into a successful author's creative writing process and, following the talk, the children had the opportunity to purchase signed copies of her books.

Year 2 had a fantastic day at the Living Rainforest which supported the topic work they have been doing on Tropical Rainforests. Throughout the school there are a whole host of exciting events lined up for the next few weeks. At the Akeley site, plans for a 'Pirates' day for all the infants are in the pipeline. Years 3 and 4 are off to Stowe for a 'Romans' focussed day, Year 1 have been learning about castles and will be visiting Warwick Castle and taking part in an 'Attack and Defence' workshop, Year 5 also have their residential visit to Everdon Outdoor Learning Centre coming up. It really is all go!

Next week is 'Science Week' across both sites! The pupils from Key Stage 2 are very excited to be spending a whole day with the Science Department at Stowe School and having the chance to experience science in a laboratory. What a wonderful opportunity for the children; we are sure they will find it enormously inspiring. Visiting the school we have parents who work in scientific fields who will be speaking to different classes about what they do and giving the children the opportunity to experiment with equipment used in their line of work.

Over the next few weeks we are holding some 'Stay and Play' sessions for the children who will be joining us in Foundation Stage in September and their parents. We hope the chance to become more familiar with the school building, outside areas and staff will help make the transition into Early Years as smooth as possible for families.

Rehearsals for the Year 5 and 6 end of year production are already under way and we know, as ever, it is going to be a fantastic performance. It won't be long before Sports Day practice begins – we'll be keeping our fingers and toes crossed for a dry day for the event!

Upcoming date for the diary:

St. James and St. John Summer Fayre: 12noon to 3pm Akeley Village Hall on Saturday 30th June. £1 admission for adults, children free.

"National Trust Stowe"

Is it safe to say summer is here? For those avid suncatchers, grab the picnic basket and enjoy the midweek days of early July when the gardens are quieter. Lap up the rays and see the sun shining across the lakes. Of course there will be plenty to do throughout the school holidays with the family, with space to play and run off some steam.

Roaming Rangers

If you're passionate about the outdoors and enjoy a walk in the countryside, this role could be just for you. We're looking for volunteers to walk the footpaths across Stowe's 1,000 acres of Grade I historic parkland, keeping an eye open for any issues and speaking to visitors along the way to share stories about the work that goes on to protect this special place. Letter of thanks from Dr Nicci Maxwell from the Church Missionary Society following her visit to Stowe Church on April 22nd.

Dear friends

Thank you all for such a wonderful, warm welcome to Stowe Parish Church today. Everyone was so kind to me and it was a real joy to share a little of my work in Uganda with you.

Thank you too for your very generous cheque in support of my work with Church Mission Society. I would love to keep you updated with all my activities as I prepare and then return to Uganda and I hope that today's visit will mark the beginning of a special relationship with all of you. Thank you for your prayers for me, both today and those promised for the future.

I hope it won't be too long before I am able to visit you again. With love and blessings,

Family Service July 15th Crossing the Jordan Joshua 3, 7 and 8, 14-17

The story of the crossing of the Red Sea is well known but did you know that 40 years later the Israelites again crossed water dryshod?

After fleeing from Egypt and crossing the Red Sea they wandered for 40 years in the desert gradually drawing nearer to the land which God had promised to give them as their home. They reached the River Jordan when the river was in full flood from melting snows. The Promised Land looked near but was still so far from achieving.

God had chosen a brave leader, JOSHUA, who was not dismayed. He trusted God to find a way. He listened to God's instructions and made sure all the people followed them. What did God tell Joshua to do?

Family Service August 19th

Facing an army Judges 7, 9-24

Life was not easy in the Promised Land. All sorts of tribes wanted to push the Israelites out. The Midianites threatened to overwhelm the Israelites with their huge army and as many camels as there were grains of sand on the sea shore. God had chosen a brave leader, GIDEON, who was not dismayed and trusted God to find a way. Some cunning eavesdropping, a dream, 300 men and a very noisy plan of action followed. What did God tell Gideon to do?

HE IS THERE

A Song for Val

Tune: John Lennon & Paul McCartney's Yesterday

He is there

In the deepest pit of grief and care. In the worst of this world's wear and tear,

He's my Lord, and He is there.

Lovingly,

He is there as He will always be, Easing anguish, so that I can see That He is there, upholding me. Love brings
In its train
Grief and pain
To follow joy.
Darkness
Prowls abroad,
But my Lord
It can't destroy.

He is there!

He's my Lord and He will always share

Every grief that I am called to bear. How I rejoice that He is there

Le Far Breton

You may have eaten this if you have been to Brittany. It is also similar to Flan that you can buy in patisseries in other parts of France. A delicious thick custard of a consistency that you can slice.

Mix together vigorously:

I litre milk [whole for extra creaminess) 250 g flour; 4 eggs; 250 g icing sugar; pinch of salt.

It would be very authentic to add a dash of calvados or grand marnier. Equally authentic to add some prunes rolled in flour.

Pour into well buttered dish and cook in gentle oven for about an hour. The custard needs to be about 3/4 - 1 inch thick [it doesn't rise much]. I use a glass rectangular roasting dish.

DADFORD WIMay and June

We were certainly all at sea at our May meeting, when Chris Lowe from the Royal National Lifeboat Institution (RNLI) came to talk us through the ongoing work of this organisation. Formed in 1824, lifeboat crews and lifeguards have saved over 140,000 lives, not government funded and relying purely on donations, they are on call 365 days a year.

It costs over £140m each year to run 200 lifeboat stations, which carry out over 8,000 lifeboat rescues every year. The RNLI has its own college in Poole, Dorset, which also has its own restaurant, bar and provides accommodation.

The RNLI played an important part in WW2 bringing back over 80,000 troops from Dunkirk. It is reassuring to know that they are always ready to come to the rescue of people and sometimes animals in danger in the water.

One brave WI member volunteered to model the crew equipment, including helmet, coat, trousers and lifejacket harness, the harness, the latter being extremely heavy. They must all eat three shredded wheat before putting all this equipment on. Could this member be a new recruit for the RNLI? I doubt it, as it is a long way to travel if on call from Dadford.

A very interesting and informative evening admiring the work of this fantastic organisation.

In June we were delighted to welcome Helen Butcher and her gorgeous Golden Retriever Edna who had come along from 'Dogs For Good'. Helen has been involved with this charity for many years, firstly having a dog to 'socialise', but found that parting was too painful for all the familily including her 5 year old twins that they decided to have a brood bitch. This means Helen keeps the dog with its maintenance costs being met by the charity.

Edna is allowed to have 4 litters of puppies which, if they are successful, will become assistance dogs for adults and children with autism, dementia and varying disabilities and help to lead a more independent life. They are trained to empty washing machines, collect post, retrieve items dropped, answer the door, in fact there is not much they can't do, but their most important role is the 'emotional bond' they develop. It costs around £20,000.00 to train a dog. this takes around 2 years and there are three centres for this, Banbury, Bristol and a centre near Warrington. Edna was the most laid back canine you could have the pleasure to come across and we were allowed to give her a few selected treats. Safe to say that we all enjoyed meeting Helen and her beautiful Golden Retriever.

On the 12th July we will be having a craft evening with Sally Chittenden and on the 9th August we have a highly recommended talk by Ian Jones on the work of the Bomb Disposal Unit titled "40 years Bomb Disposal — Still 10 Fingers". This is an open meeting, all are welcome, husbands, friends and family for the cost of a small donation. Do hope you will be able to join us.

Loreen.

The rose that I thought would be the one to surround Sleeping Beauty's palace, William Lobb, died last year. It has, however, left a thriving sucker. The rose Kazanlik, the one used for attar (see end note on page 16) of roses, is now in its second year with blooms of heavenly perfume. La Cuisse de Nymphe, or more prosaically known in English as Maidens Blush, another recent planting has opened its exquisite buds.

When was the last time you did a reasonably long journey by car and found the windscreen wipers only just about coping with the splattered insects; the headlamps too? Young drivers possibly never. These insects were food for so many birds. On holiday on Dartmoor recently I looked forward to hearing the sky lark over the vast empty spaces. Its song is not as musically varied as say the blackbird or robin but is, for me, so evocative of down and moorland even if I no longer hear it at home. It was evocative for the soldiers of the first world war and as we remember the hundred years anniversary of that war I return to talking about the lark again.

Edward Thomas wrote that 'The skylarks are far behind that sang over the down.... The noise of man, beast and machine prevails'. For Sgt John William Street, the lark's song made him flee 'Unto the realms where the eternal are'. A French soldier in the horror of the trenches in 1915 spoke of its song as 'a song of joy and hope' We are about to set off for the Flemish region of France where Lieut-Col John D McCrae wrote 'Between the crosses, row on row The larks still bravely singing fly'. Shall we hear them I wonder?

Perhaps the loveliest story of a lark is the very old legend of a monk, St Anselm, who one morning heard the lark for the first time in his life. He drank in the music of the lark, entranced and then returned to the monastery. At the door the keeper did not know him and asked his name.

Given it, he said that no monk of that name belonged to that monastery. Other monks came, all strangers to Father Anselm. At last, having consulted their records, they discovered that a certain Father Anselm had been of that fraternity a hundred years before. Time it seemed had been blotted out while Father Anselm had listened to the lark. (H.L.Gee)

Remember the insects that feed larks and other birds before you reach for the spray.

GG Note:Kazanlik is a very old variety (before 1612) of damask rose.. It is very highly scented and was (and I think still is) used by perfumiers to produce an essential oil known as attar of roses used in making perfumes

O Lord my God

Teach my heart this day where and how to see you,

Where and how to find you.
You have made me and remade me,
And you have bestowed on me
All the good things I possess,
And still I do not know you.
I have not yet done that for which I was made.

Teach me to seek you,

For I cannot seek you unless you teach me.

Or find you unless you show yourself to me

Let me seek you in my desire, Let me desire you in my seeking, Let me find you by loving you, Let me love you when I find you. Amen
